

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

This manual is the product of all the writers who agreed to contribute their thoughts about the writing process. Each and every single one of the contributors is sharing something very special with students and I appreciate all your efforts. Thank you!

This is a public sociology product of love. This manual is free and open to students, which intends to address the need for more equitable access to educational materials. In addition to the contributors, I thank all those who supported this effort with their ideas and feedback, including those not named here.

I would also like to thank CSU Sacramento and the Sociology Department—it is the fact that I work here that made this manual possible; I am especially thankful for the support from all my colleagues who guide me to do the work I do and I love—especially my friends and mentors. I also want to thank all the students who have taught me so much and who have inspired me to write this manual. Let's continue learning and growing together as writers and sociologists!

Finally, I would like to thank my family. Gracias a mi familia por apoyarme! Este trabajo es posible porque mi familia me apoya y me ayuda todos los días a realizar mi trabajo. Muy en especial, gracias a Ari, que me motiva todos los días a dar lo mejor de mí. Gracias Ari por tus sacrificios—pues no siempre puedo estar contigo porque tengo que trabajar—pero sé que tú sabes que eres lo más especial e importante en mi vida! Y gracias también a mis padres que trabajaron para yo estuviera aquí y continúan trabajando para que yo siga aquí—su trabajo y su apoyo es invaluable— no podría hacer esto sin ustedes! Gracias!
